

800 AD

Pope Leo III in conflict with Aristocracy of Rome, seized by the nobles, cast into a dungeon (legend says was blinded and had his tongue cut out. An angel restored both). Leo III fled to Charles in Germany. Charles the Great descended on Rome with his Army. Charles had Leo cleared by having Pope Leo III take an oath swearing his innocence on the Bible 12/22/800
237

^{thru?}
Two days later on Christmas day
in year 800 after celebration of Mass at St. Peter's and while Charles knelt praying at the altar, the Pope suddenly placed a diadem on his head. The throng gathered in the church then began to shout
in the Roman (that is, Byzantine) fashion:
"To Charles, Augustus, crowned by God,
great and pacific Emperor of Romans,
life and victory!"

800 A.D. Dec. 25

Pope Leo III placed a crown
on the head of Charlemagne
and saluted him

Charles Augustus, Emperor
of the Romans.

The act was ratified by the enthusiastic acclamation of the multitude.

AACHEN, not Rome, was the real center of government and the capital.

Charlemagne founds the new Western Empire and is crowned at Rome, emperor of the Romans

Charlemagne's schools provide for women as well as men.
Charlemagne founded hospitals.

Charlemagne reformed the Church.

Many bishoprics were
founded

AD 800

In Middle America - Maya
estimated at 14 million population

750 BC - Population = 1 million
1 AD ✓ = 4 million

800-900 AD

There was a dramatic rise in Sea Level Responsible for abandonment of many coastal Mayan Settlements.

off Belize - under water murr:-
where they used to extract salt
from seawater

800 A.D.

as combination of overpopulation
environmental stress, and intercity
conflict led to the demise
of many southern lowland
cities and a concurrent population
shift to the northern lowlands
Classic period continued to 1000 A.D.

C 800 AD.

Anglo-Saxon Cal.

notches in the corners of 4 cornered sticks indicated days. Some sketches denoted days of special observance.

800 Coronation
of Charlemagne at Rome

800 AD

Christmas Day

Charles crowned Holy Roman Emperor
by Pope Leo III

The Roman emperor in Constantinople
was a woman IRENE

DEC. 25, 800 AD

WAS A FRIDAY

AD 800 - AD 900

Mayan civilization collapsed

800 A.D.

The modern decimal position system was the invention of the Hindus, about 800 A.D. Their invention of the sign for zero greatly simplified arithmetic computation.

By comparison, the Roman numerical system containing no zero was awkward

25 Dec 800 AD

Charlemagne crowned 1st Holy Roman Emperor by Pope Leo III at Rome

(New empire of West as opposed to Eastern Roman Empire - which lasted till 1453)

Charlemagne died 814 AD